

Receiving unwanted telephone calls most of the time ends up in arguments. I have politely ask the caller not to call again or have told them I am not interested and the the various callers get abusive,use fowl language and some kept calling and hanging up. My caller ID never gave the telephone number of the company that was calling. It always shows up as "unavailable" therefore I cannot call back and file a complaint. These calls are very annoying,upsetting,unwanted and harassing. These companies should not be given the freedom to call people who do not want to receive their calls.
